The Evening Independent, of St. Petersburg, Pinellas county, Florida date of Saturday, Nov. 17, in its Per-sonal Mention column contains the following item of local interest: Among arrivals at the Dusemberry Villa are Mr. and Mrs, Louis Mabrey of Norwich, Conn., who have come to spend the winter.

It is evident that St. Petersburg is a pleasant portion of the Peninsula State, since The Independent an-nounces itself as The Sunshine Paper, which gives away its entire circula tion, absolutely free to everybody, every day the sun does not shine on St. Petersburg. The record is 42 free issues in seven years.

References are made to the yacht club as the center of social life for the winter, the town's enterprise and building boom and the fact that apartment houses are well rented and ho-tels already entertaining many guests. Mr. and Mrs. Mabrey took the trip to Florida with the expectation that Mrs. Mabrey will regain her health, as she underwent a serious surgical operation during the spring.
